Man's Greatest Asset

The universal health-conscious campaign recently conducted by the Red Cross Society throughout Canada had for its object the arousing of the people in the vital need of greater personal interest in the matter of health. It was not a campaign to raise money, but a Dominion-wide and well-organized effort to secure an active and intelligent public interest in health, and the prevention of disease. It demonstrated that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. The average man and child gives little heed to their physical well-being until they are afflicted with some ailment, and then there is a hurry-up call for a doctor.

That there is need for a great awakening on the part of the public in regard to matters of personal hygiene and public health was demonstrated by the efforts of the Red Cross Society and the many scores of doctors who were, last summer, as were the discoverers from those examinations, even more staggering are some recent figures and opinion contained in an article in the Journal of Health and Sanitation, written by Dr. J. H. Kellogg, superintendent of the famous Battle Creek Sanitarium.

Races of men have sometimes died out and utterly disappeared and Dr. Kellogg is of the opinion that this is what has happened to the Indian. Man, says Dr. Kellogg, is a very old-fashioned animal trying to live in a new-fangled way, in a manner that no animal ever before adventured, and so unnatural and so ill-adapted to his constitution and his requirements as to render his ultimate undoing inevitable. Man is by nature open-air dependent, and requires exercise and fresh air, increased by the labor of their own efforts, work, their natural life, years before they die, and, on the average, twenty years sooner than the farmer whose vacation keeps him in the open.

Present-day habits and methods of living are held accountable for the physical deterioration of the race, and for the prevalence of diseases which are rare among the Indians. Kellogg estimates that in 1900 the United States lost from its population of 100,000,000 by death 1,000,000 people every year, while 3,000,000 people are sick all the time. In other words, one-fifth of the population are inefficient or lost. He estimates that an average of seven days are lost from labor by sickness every year. Tuberculosis is a gathering ground, and kills one out of every ten of the population. Cancer kills one out of every five. The Indian is a gathering ground. In England and Wales the losses are increasing twice as fast as the same, and in France ten times as fast. Coupled with these alarming symptoms, there is the serious fact that the birth rate in nearly all civilized countries is declining.

Dr. MacEachern, superintendent of the Mental Hospital at Battlefield, Saskatchewan, has stated recently in a public address at Regina that the present rate of increase of mental disease people there would not enough mentally efficient people to look after them fifty years hence.

In support of his contention that presents habits and methods of living are responsible for existing conditions, Dr. Kellogg draws attention to one of the most striking differences from the way of life of the Indian and of the death rate in several countries. Denmark the death rate fell 25 per cent. due in the opinion of Dr. Hinckley, the Danish food controller, to simpler habits of living, and especially the low-protein diet and the use of coarse bread. In Germany, too, diabetes has practically disappeared from the same cause, and gout, formerly very common, is now unknown.

Good health is the greatest asset any person can possess. Wealth is of little value to a man if he does not possess good health. If he has no wife or son, without health no person can wholly enjoy life. Lasting health is waste. Yet the best medical experts agree that, by taking proper precautions there is little reason for sickness, and that many diseases which now number their victims by millions could easily be stamped out.

Health and health conditions must be given first place and foremost attention in our public schools. People must be made to understand that soundness of body is fundamentally essential in business, art, literature, politics and religion, as well as in warfare, sports and industry. By creating an enthusiasm for health promotion and physical perfection a long step forward will be taken towards the realization of that better state for all posterity which we all desire. A popular slogan of the world-wide League for Good Health is imperative. Government can do much for the main element is an ardent and active interest on the part of every individual citizen. The promotion of health is the only real, lasting and holistic national policy for any country.

Goose's Appetite.

How many grains of corn can a hungry goose eat in two hours? Eat a person can eat 2,000 to 3,000. Then a hungry goose was produced and the grains were counted. The goose ate exactly 431 grains in two hours.

It takes fifteen days for the average human body to recover fully from the loss of two consecutive night sleep.

Sims Spent Younger Days in Toronto

Father Was Superintendent of Toronto and Nipissing Railway. Rear-Admiral William Sowden Sims, whose pro-active spirit in Great Britain has prompted his recall to Washington by the secretary of the United States navy, lived in Toronto with his father and mother when he was fifteen years of age. His father, who was born in Philadelphia, had come to Canada in 1854 and had been a pioneer in the construction of the railway from that town to Lindsay, moved with his Canadian wife and two children to Toronto in 1873 and became connected with the Toronto and Nipissing Railway Company. From Toronto up through Beaverton and Cannington to Cobourg where it now ends.

An old city directory of that year the future admiral's father is listed as an official of the railway board at the Queen's Hotel, Front Street.

Canada's Huge Wheat Area

Prairie Province Has More Than Ninety Per Cent of the Wheat Acreage.

The total area sown to wheat this season in the Dominion of Canada is estimated at 18,654,000 acres, an increase of half a million acres over the year preceding. The new record is being constituted by new wheat-growing areas. One of the most remarkable is the new wheat belt in the West, extending from the Peace River to the Saskatchewan River, and from the 50th parallel to the 60th. This is to fall wheat, leaving 17,945,000 to be sown this spring.

The prairie provinces have more than nine-tenths of the wheat in the Dominion's vast acreage, with 17,418,000 acres. This shows an increase of 577,000 acres over the previous year.

Big Berths

Have Been Destroyed

Last of the Seven Was Scrapped in 1919.

Beginning with a bitter-sweet military control commission note regarding the location of the "Big Berths" used by the Germans during the war, the German government said "there were seven such long-range guns, of which four were destroyed in 1918, and the fifth was scrapped at Easen in April, 1919; the sixth was scrapped at Meppen, and the seventh at Magdeburg in November, 1919.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. W. Breslow, Mrs. Roché Out, writes "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past eight months; my baby has had no colds since she was born. I wonder if she was passed?" "Course not," said the other. "One could ask for her hand, 'cos she didn't have any"—Boston Transcript.

"Equinectic" A Myth.

That the equinectic storm is a myth is demonstrated by an astute co-operative observer of the United States Weather Bureau, says the Scientific American. This popular belief is probably the result of teach-ing handed down from father to son. Old weather saws are very hard to eliminate.

Manitoba Free Press Crop Report. The Manitoba Free Press crop report for June 1st, 1919, in regard to crop conditions, is if anything, more favorable than at May 17th. "It would be difficult to think of a more generally satisfactory report of conditions spread over so wide a territory," says the Free Press.

CHILDREN'S HABITS.

Copyright, 1921, by Rev. Prester McGee.

Habits formed in childhood are very difficult to break. The younger the child, the more quickly a habit is formed.

Their experience having been so limited, they very quickly become accustomed to almost any new diversion that may come their way. Many times we see children who have learned to sit upright, who, at the time, seem trivial, will have a severe effect in after-life.

One of the worst habits that a young child has is that of thumb sucking. Many a family has been ruined by the habit, quiet than disguised with life in general and raising Cain. But the pacifying of the youngster by this method will cause a great deal of difficulty.

When a child sucks its thumb it pushes the roof of the mouth upward so that the roof of the mouth is a high arch; the floor of the nose is reduced and the septum of the nose is pushed upward to the right or to the left—usually to the left.

The upper teeth in front, along with the bone in which they are imbedded, are pushed forward and upward, and the lower front teeth and molars are pulled backward and downward.

Medicated dentifrices should not be used by children. What they need is just thorough scrubbing of the teeth twice each day with clean water and a mild, pleasant tooth paste or powder.

Japs Plan To Raft

Timber From B.C.

Think Davis Structure Will Stand Trans-Pacific Passage.

A Japanese first proposes to make another attempt to raft timber from British Columbia to Japan. They believe that the Davis structure, of which the entire rows of logs are laced with cable, can be made to stand the trans-Pacific passage. The first raft will leave this coast about August. It will have superstructure of logs and girders. The Hiltner rafted logs have not withstood long sea journeys, except one which was taken from San Francisco to China about twenty years ago and was safely landed. The Chinese, however, unused to big logs, took ten years to cut up this boom, using long, hand rip saws to make the boards.

Phosphorus Discovered As Long Ago as 1670

Chemist Prepared It in Small Quantities for Medical Purposes.

What we now call phosphorus was discovered by a chemist called Brand in 1670, who prepared it in small quantities from bones. In those days of mysticism a substance that burned and emitted light without being ignited was considered a miracle. The principle of life. The sensation was just like what was made 250 years later by the discovery of radium.

One of the most effective vermifuges on the market is Miller's Worm Root. It is recommended by an astute co-operative observer of the United States Weather Bureau, says the Scientific American. This popular belief is probably the result of teaching handed down from father to son. Old weather saws are very hard to eliminate.

New Camera's Great Range

Can Photograph From Height Where

Airplane Is Invisible.

Scientists of the United States Bureau of Standards revealed the details of a new photographic process but perfectly perfected. The device is especially useful of cameras as well as to the air service, as well as to have invaluable scientific and commercial application. It will give to the eye of the camera what the eye has never seemed to which it has not been possible to make photographs from heights so great that the planes themselves will be invisible from the earth, and to penetrate haze that the human eye cannot pierce.

British Stock Raisers Should Not Fear Canadian Competition

London.—A Scotch witness before the cattle commission said that the Glasgow corporation had consistently for 20 years advocated the admission of Canadian store cattle, which, he said, were more free from disease than those at home. In his opinion all the evidence pointed to the fact that Canadian cattle imports would lower the price of meat. One witness reminded the commission that the minister of agriculture had lost his election at Dundee on the embargo question.

The president of the London Retail Meat Traders urged the necessity of providing the country with a more abundant supply of meat.

The Glasgow Herald, commenting on the evidence of Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture for Alberta, says it was notable as an account of a modest frank presentation of the Canadian position.

"A year ago," says the Herald,

"when he attended the Highland Show, Mr. Marshall impressed the agriculturists of Scotland as an administrator who was good on agricultural affairs was as reliable as his breezy oratory. His estimate that it would take 14 pounds to bring a Canadian steer over here is important. He used this argument to convince the Scotchmen that the Irish, English or Scottish raisers of cattle would be driven out of business through competition from Canada. With freights at the present level only the best of Canada's supplies would be likely to be shipped."

I was managing the Fairford Post of the Hudson's Bay Company in the winter of 1874-5 and was fortunate enough to own a splendid train of dogs that have mentioned in former issues. Mr. and Mrs. Cowie of Manitoba House, was my regular chief and at his request I took a young sleigh dog to train with my own as these had a peculiar dolt slinging trot which covered the ground in an amazing way.

I had occasion to visit Manitoba House, or the "Post" as it was commonly called, and started early one morning with my master, Mr. Cowie, the strange dog with me. As I was taking a ride and traveling light, I intended riding all the way and dressed very warmly accordingly. The dogs were not at all interested with the temperature quite frosty would give him a sly nibble behind, to which he would naturally retaliate, and thus made the train all the faster a pace than usual. We were out about fifteen miles out from Fairford and the dogs were off the track of the frozen lake, when feeling tired and cramped I called a halt and got out of the carriage for a few minutes to stretch and bring the circulation back. Then I heard the dogs bark for a minute and off they went in a dash, fortunately in the right direction. Running at top speed, I managed to catch up with them for a minute but moved with difficulty as they were also sweating profusely, as I had too many clothes for a dog-runner, then taking off my coat a minute later, then taking off my "hounds" mat poncho along at a steady pace. But gradually the train drew further and further away until lost to sight, and then I heard the marks of their claws on the hard snow for a mile. Placing my cap on the ice to lay it down and again saw the tracks rapidly disappearing as some light snow was falling. My hard running at the start had been 160 yards and then it was a long time before I could run again. My grub was on the sleigh. I began to feel very much exhausted and an overpowering desire to rest at any cost, but the dogs had passed me and again saw the tracks rapidly disappearing as some light snow was falling. HON AND DEARIE*Fun and Humour

Some people do not improve a bit with age, for no sooner do they square themselves from one little indiscretion than they are in another jackpot. This is particularly referring to the fact that one of the local stockmen has recently shown a decided preference for having his dial plated by lady barbers in preference to the ministrations of the he-barbers. I suppose it's alright, aight—but I have my doubts; those young fellas are so easily led astray.

Since writing the above I have been interviewed by the gentleman in question, and learned that the whole thing arose through that darn Ranch trying to put a wrong interpretation on things. It is explained that a man gets tired of hearing the male barbers talk about the Calgary club's standing; Dempsey's weight; Georges' foot-work, and where one can get the best beer with the biggest kick in it. It is much more edifying to visit one of the establishments presided over by the females of the species, where one can indulge in some intellectual discussions on the Einstein theory, or exchange astronomical opinions concerning the rapid approach with which the Puss-Winnipeg comet is approaching the earth. It is intellectual conversation such as this which enable a man to go out and pay the farmer more for his cattle than he really worth, and then ship 'em to Calgary yards and make money out of them.

The soothing effects of having a tonsorial divinity tickle a man under the chin while rubbing in the lather is said to be the most beneficial.

We will now have a phony graft selection: "Somebody Loves a Fat Man."

HURTFUL TO HIS FEELINGS
Little Tommy came home from Sunday school one day in a very thoughtfull mood.

"Mother," he said, "don't you think I've been a good boy since I have been in Sunday school?"

"Why yes certainly!" replied the mother.

"Don't you think you can trust me now mother?"

"Of course I do! But why do you ask?"

"On nothing" replied the boy, "only I was wondering why you kept the cakes locked up just the same as you did before I went to Sunday School!"

BASE

The Base ball game held here last Monday evening between the Farmers and Burdett business men resulted in a victory for the Farmers, the score was 9-3.

It was just the little the best game ever played in the Farmers' name, the crowd of five numbering 600 strong were given a rare treat.

The Farmers played like veterans, while the Business men displayed a lack of experience.

Both teams played all right ball might be mentioned.

Robt. Walker as pitcher, with Wm. Sears as catcher, with McPhail on third and Geo. Lewis on second, and not able to ride the bases.

It was a great game and the Farmers' attack work first round.

An added attraction was free ice cream for the ladies and children which was served right on the field and to complete a perfect day chance was also attended by a large crowd, already Burdett's regular team has some very attractive offers for the summer months.

Business men, however, have been upped for the season and can't be signed up for the season.

Why Women Should take an interest in Politics

(Contributed by a reader.) The Farmers' platform is considered by all broad-minded people to be the fairest, most just and practical solution of the taxation problem which has ever been suggested to the people of Canada. Let us get busy and thoroughly acquaint ourselves with that platform. How are we ever going to develop an intelligent citizenship if these things are not discussed? To the women it is new thing and it is up to us to use our ballot for the benefit of humanity, many matters of public welfare are closely connected with women, and therefore can be better understood by women, we, therefore need the help of every woman in our efforts to better the conditions for all families.

What can we women do, to help the situation? we can organize, we can put up a campaign for our members, we can throw all energy into the political campaign in order to procure honest representation. If we would realize that it will prove a solution to the high cost of living, will do away with strikes and make a better world to live in, let every woman get out and vote intelligently and conscientiously influenced by her own ideals, not by her husband's views she should cast her ballot for the man, who, she believes stands for her principles, for the principles of the farmers.

The woman in a battle of fist or gun may not be as great a power as a man, but a woman behind a vote is every bit as useful as a man.

"Let us then be up and doing, with a heart for any fate."

Discourtesy is no sign of independence

One thing I notice is that the idea is beginning to prevail in this land that lack of courtesy is a sign of independence," said R. B. Bennett, K.C. in the course of an address at the annual banquet of the Canadian Storage and Transformer's Association in the Hotel Palliser. "Let us remember how we were brought up and that discourtesy is not a sign of independence. Once you have clearly shown that it is not, you will have done much to avert that which has happened in Europe. Do what you can show that spirit of courtesy to those who serve you, as you are courteous to those you serve."

Mr. Bennett spoke of the modern school children, their profanity and vulgarity on the streets, and how many of their elders were showing an example of the imagined independence which was purely and simply a total lack of courtesy and sense.

Mr. R.H. Walker and Dr. McPhail deserve good credit for being real hall pitchers, they may lead the Rain Belt League if given an opportunity.

Mr. W.D. Patterson who was accidentally hurt some weeks ago is now on the job again with the Telephone Co.

The Burdett Orchestra furnished music at the dance, last Wednesday at the picnic.

Our school teachers the Misses Lawson, Dickson and Stroble left here on Monday last, we hope to see them in Burdett again for the fall term.

Don't forget to order that Suit from the Mercantile Store. Fit and Prices are right.

Keep your blood cool during the hot weather by using the Cooling Salts so much advocated, they are cool and refreshing.

E. M. Johnston

A great many farmers say that Ryke is a very bad crop for these Dry Districts on account of being such a breeding place for Grasshoppers and the Grasshoppers are very bad now in many parts around here.

At least fifty per cent of the crops are gone. It is up to the Government to supply Free Salt to the Farmers to destroy these Grasshoppers and not have the Gall to charge them $20. a hundred weight as the Farmers would never have been in this Dry belt if it had not been for the lying pamphlets sent out by the Government.
